This morning we're heading out a bit later than usual so you can indulge in a second croissant or maybe even sleep in a bit, why not? You are on vacation, after all! Our plan today is to head into nearby Châteauneuf-du-Pape for a tasting of some of the best from this famous region. We will start at Château la Nerthe for a visit of the cellars where wine lockers store wines for some of the most famous restaurants in the world! And of course, we will do a tasting of these wonderful wines!

Then we are off to Châteauneuf-du-Pape, upon arrival, you'll have some free time to wander around the town and see the ruins of the chateau before we enjoy a delicious lunch at a lovely, local restaurant.

Next, we head to another local winery, where we will have a workshop on wine and chocolate pairing!

Then it's back to our Chateau, located just outside of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, where you can relax by the pool or learn how to play Pétanque; you may have seen groups of French residents enjoying this relaxed game of boules in some of the village squares or park "boulodromes"; It is an institution in the South of France and is quite fun, especially while enjoying an aperitif!

This evening, dinner is on your own. Taxi and local restaurant info can be found in your BBV app.

This morning after breakfast in the Château we will head off to one of the best markets in Provence and maybe even in France! The Sunday market at L'Isle-sur-la-Sorgue, "The Venice of Provence", has it all – a food market, "brocante" (flea market) and antique market all in one so you can buy everything from artisanal cheese to an antique wardrobe! Stroll along the streets lined with vendors and flower-filled riverside cafés. Check out the waterwheels, do some great people watching and take a peek into the local church. Taste your way along the vendors sampling tapanade, olive oil and cheese! When you have totally whet your appetite, find a waterside or garden café and relax with a cool glass of some local rose and a nice lunch. If you are looking for a reservation at somewhere a little out of the crowded market, then check out our app for suggestions. Some of the smaller restaurants fill up fast on market day, so make sure to reserve in advance.

Afterwards, since one cannot visit Provence without seeing some of the gorgeous lavender that paints the valleys in myriad shades of purple during mid-summer, we'll head to nearby Coustellet to visit the Musée de Lavande (Lavender Museum) where we will learn about the different types and uses of lavender and see how it is processed, from growing to distillation. (Yes, of course we had to include something with distillation!)

Then we head to our Chateau, and this evening, you are invited to join us for "Ruth and Mike's Favorite Provence Vacation Dinner": a casual picnic al fresco, weather permitting, of local meats and cheeses, fresh bread, fruit, wine and beer.

We'll descend into Les Sentiers des Ocres for a magnificent but easy walk through the dazzling red and yellow sand cliffs. (The short version is only ½ hour or you can opt for a longer trail of about 45min to an hour.) Afterwards, you will have free time to stroll around the town, explore the shops and galleries and climb to the top of the viewing area beside the church for a superb panoramic view. We'll enjoy lunch here before heading on to visit a local winery that we discovered a few years back for a visit and tasting of their amazing rosés and other local styles. Next, we will head to Gordes, stopping for photos of the breathtaking view of this popular village perched on the top of a steep hill. The narrow and sometimes arcaded medieval lanes invite you to explore and see what is around each corner of this charming village. Take some time to explore and then soak in the atmosphere over a cool drink on a shaded patio in one of the local restaurants.

We'll head back via the route that will pass by the famous Abbaye de Senanque. If you have a guidebook for Provence, chances are, there is a picture of this gorgeous setting with lavender fields and the ancient abbaye on the cover or inside the book. We'll make a quick stop to take our own photos before heading home.

This evening, dinner will be prepared by our private chef and paired with wines from the chateau.

We'll start by touring the vestiges of Château des Baux, an 11th century fortress, perched high on a rocky outcropping. The views from up here seem endless, as if you are at the top of the world. If we are lucky, we may even be there during a demonstration of the giant catapult! Afterwards we'll have some free time to explore the town which dates back to the 10th century.

Then we head to one of our favorite restaurants in Provence, Le Bistro du Paradou, which we "discovered" years ago, thanks to cookbook author and James Beard award recipient, Patricia Wells. Their plate du jour and amazing cheese selection will likely put you into a food coma, but if you can't indulge while you are on vacation, then what's the point?

Once we have finished our dessert, wine and cafes at Paradou, we will head back to Le Baux for the Carrieres de Lumieres. This extraordinary multimedia experience is held in the chalk quarries. Upon entering the cool caverns, we become surrounded by music accompanying images from the works of famous artists, which are projected larger than life onto all the surfaces of the rock, from ceiling to floor. It is a total immersion, as if you are walking into the paintings!

We will spend today in one of Provence's most magical cities. Vaison la Romaine. Vaison la Romaine is a unique and interesting town in that it is divided into 3 areas, each representing different time periods. The Roman ruins and the modern town are down in the valley; then, as you cross over a bridge from the 1st century AD, you will be led into the medieval town which winds its way up a rocky cliff.

We will start our visit today with a guided tour of the ruins and some time to explore the museum housed there. Then you are free to find a shady terrace in the lower area or head up to the medieval part of town for a casual lunch at a local café. As with many towns that are so picturesque and historic, there are a number of talented artists living here. We are happy to point you in the direction of some of their galleries before you head off to explore a bit on your own. The upper town is a wonderful place to wander, with cobblestone pathways and staircases that lead towards the ruins of a castle at the top of the hill. If you are feeling ambitious enough, you might decide to climb all the way to the top. But don't worry if this is not your thing; wandering leisurely through the ancient town is magical in itself and will provide for some great photo ops.

We'll head to Avignon late this afternoon to check into our 4 star hotel. The rest of the evening is yours to enjoy exploring the papal city. In the app, you will find a list of some of the locally recommended delicious restaurants for dinner on your own this evening – bon appetite!
